GENERAL PERSONNEL INFORMATION

I. STATE MERIT SYSTEM

The State Merit System replaced the "Spoils System" in 1920. It is a body of laws, rules and regulations emanating from the Maryland Office of Personnel Services & Benefits (formerly known as the Maryland Department of Personnel) to provide for the fair and equitable processing of personnel actions; i.e., recruitment, selection, training, discipline, leave, transfers, discharge, etc. The Merit System provides for certain rights and protections for permanent employees in the Classified Service. {Ref: Article 64A}

II. CODE OF ETHICS

State employees provide services to all the people of Maryland. Because of this, their conduct is subject to standards and requirements that have been established to protect the interests of the public, and to protect the good name of the State. A Code of Ethics has been promulgated to provide a framework for proper conduct of State employees citing such improprieties as conflict of interest, and accepting gifts and gratuities.

III. FRAUD, WASTE, AND ABUSE IN HEALTH CARE PROGRAMS

As an entity that receives and makes annual Medicaid payments of at least $5 million, MDH is required under section 6032 of the Deficit Reduction Act of 2005 (DRA) to include in its Employee Handbook "a specific discussion" of various federal and State laws and MDH policies relating to fraud, waste, and abuse in health care programs.

A. Federal Law

The federal False Claims Act (FCA, 31 U.S.C. §§ 3729 to 3733) provides that any person who knowingly:

- 1.) submits a false or fraudulent claim to the federal government for payment, or
- 2.) uses false records or statements to obtain payment from the federal government for a false or fraudulent claim, is liable to the federal government and subject to a civil penalty of $5,500 to $11,000 per claim ($5,000 to $10,000 for claims submitted before September 29, 1999), plus three times the amount of damages that the federal government sustains because of the act of that person. For purposes of the FCA, a person acts "knowingly" if the person:

- 1.) has actual knowledge of the falsity of the claim, record, or statement, or
- 2.) acts in deliberate ignorance or reckless disregard as to the truth or falsity of the claim, record, or statement, even where there is no proof that the person had a specific intent to defraud the federal government. "Claims" include any request or demand for money or property.

The FCA also contains whistleblower (qui tam) provisions that allow private citizens to bring suit on behalf of the federal government to recover federal funds used to pay false or fraudulent claims. Such whistleblowers may share in the proceeds of such recoveries. Any whistleblower who is “discharged, demoted, suspended, threatened, harassed, or in any other manner discriminated against in the terms and conditions of employment by his or her employer” is entitled to various types of relief under the FCA and may sue in federal court to obtain such relief.

In addition to the civil penalties provided for in the FCA, any person who makes false claims or statements for the purpose of obtaining payment from the federal government may also be subject to additional penalties imposed by relevant federal agencies, such as the Office of the Inspector General for the United States Department of Health and Human Services. These penalties may include civil money penalties and prospective exclusion from participation in all Federal and State health care programs (see 31 U.S.C. §§ 3801 to 3812, 42 U.S.C. § 1320a-7a, and related regulations).

Other federal laws directed at fraud, waste, and abuse include: the Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations Act (RICO, see 18 U.S.C. §§ 1961 to 1968), which is aimed at organized criminal activity conducted through interstate commerce; civil forfeiture statutes, including 18 U.S.C. § 981, which is directed primarily at “money laundering” of claims illegally received; the criminal False Claims Act (see 18 U.S.C. §287); the federal Anti-Kickback Statute (see 42 U.S.C. § 1320a-7b(b)); various federal statutes criminalizing the making of false statements to the federal government (see 18 U.S.C. § 1001), mail fraud and wire fraud (see 18 U.S.C. §§ 1341 and 1343), Medicare and Medicaid Fraud (see 42 U.S.C. § 1320a-7b(a)), and money laundering (see 18 U.S.C. §§ 1956 and 1957); and other general statutes concerning conspiracy, theft, and obstruction of justice.

B. State Law

1. Maryland State False Claims Act – (See Health General §§2–601 through 2– 611 of the Annotated Code of Maryland)

Under the State False Claims Act a person may not:

- (a) knowingly present or cause to be presented a false or fraudulent claim for payment or approval;
- (b) knowingly make, use, or cause to be made or used a false record or statement material to a false or fraudulent claim;
- (c) conspire to commit a violation under this subtitle;
- (d) Have possession, custody, or control of money or other property used by or on behalf of the state under a state health plan or a state health program and knowingly deliver or cause to be delivered to the state less than all of that money or other property;
- (e) (i) be authorized to make or deliver a receipt or other document certifying receipt of money or other property used or to be used by the state under a state health plan or a state health program; and
(ii) Intending to defraud the state or the department, make or deliver a receipt or document knowing that the information contained in the receipt or document is not true;
- (f) knowingly buy or receive as a pledge of an obligation or debt publicly owned property from an officer, employee, or agent of a state health plan or a state health program who lawfully may not sell or pledge the property;

- (g) knowingly make, use, or cause to be made or used, a false record or statement material to an obligation to pay or transmit money or other property to the state;
- (h) knowingly conceal, or knowingly and improperly avoid or decrease, an obligation to pay or transmit money or other property to the state; or
- (i) knowingly make any other false or fraudulent claim against a state health plan or a state health program.

A person or entity who violates one of these provisions is subject to:

- (1) A civil penalty of not more than $10,000 for each violation; (2) An additional amount of not more than three times the amount of damages that the state sustains as a result of the acts.

An individual filing the civil suit against the person or entity is protected from retaliatory actions and may receive a portion of the recovery generated by the action.

2. Under the Maryland Medicaid Fraud statute (see Md. Code Ann., Crim. Law §§ 8-508 to 8-517), a person who knowingly and willfully:

- 1.) defrauds or attempts to defraud a State health plan in connection with the delivery of or payment for a health care service, or
- 2.) obtains or attempts to obtain by means of a false representation anything of value in connection with the delivery of or payment for a health care service through a State health plan, is guilty of a crime and is subject to imprisonment, a fine, or both. The Maryland Medicaid Fraud statute also includes provisions relating to conversion, bribes and kickbacks, and referral rebates.

A person who violates the Maryland Medicaid Fraud statute is also liable to the State for a civil penalty of up to three times the amount of the overpayment. For purposes of the Maryland Medicaid Fraud statute, “false representations” include the knowing and willful “making of a materially false or fraudulent statement”, and the knowing and willful use of a false or fraudulent document that the person knows to be false or fraudulent. “State health plans” include the State’s Medicaid program, other State medical assistance plans administered by MDH, and any person that provides or contracts or subcontracts to provide health care services for such program or plan.

Additional sanctions under State law, which may apply to health care personnel who commit fraud, waste, or abuse, include loss of staff privileges at a health care facility or suspension or revocation of a health occupation license.

C. MDH Efforts to Combat Fraud, Waste, and Abuse

As part of its effort to combat fraud, waste, and abuse of MDH funds and property, MDH has established a Corporate Compliance Program and a Code of Conduct (see MDH Policy 01.03.01). The Corporate Compliance Program is administered by the Division of Corporate Compliance of the MDH Office of the Inspector General (OIG). The OIG has the authority to “investigate fraud, waste, and abuse” of MDH (and federal) funds, and to “take necessary steps to recover” any fraudulent claims paid by MDH (see Md. Ann. Code, Health-Gen. §§ 2-501 to 2-505).

All MDH employees have a responsibility to report to the OIG any incidents of suspected fraud, waste, abuse, or misconduct within MDH that potentially violate any laws, MDH policies, or the Code of Conduct. Reports to the OIG may be made orally, in writing, or through the OIG Hotline at 1-866-7707175. Any report to the OIG may be made anonymously, regardless of the means of reporting.

Any MDH employee who suffers retaliation as a result of reporting suspected fraud, waste, abuse, or misconduct may file a complaint with the Secretary of Health and Mental Hygiene pursuant to section 5309 of the Maryland Whistleblower Law in the Executive Branch of State Government (see Md. Code Ann., State Pers. & Pens. §§ 5-301 to 5-313).

The Governor's Code of Fair Practices requires State agencies to adopt an Affirmative Action Plan to further the cause of equal opportunity in employment. The Department's plan is based upon problem identification and a prescribed course of action designed to address any problems or deficiencies. Formal complaints of discrimination may be filed with the MDH Office of Equal Opportunity Commission (EEOC), the Maryland Human Relations Commission or the Federal Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC).

An employee disabled contributed to or caused by pregnancy may request a reasonable accommodation and the employer must explore “all possible means of providing the reasonable accommodation.” The law lists a variety of options to consider in order to comply with a request for a reasonable accommodation including: Changing job duties

XVII. EMPLOYER/EMPLOYEE RELATIONS

A. Grievance: A dispute between an employee and the employee’s “employer” about the interpretation and application of State employee personnel rules, regulations or policies over which management has control. The State laws, regulations and policies are made available to employees by the MDH Office of Human Resources on upon request.

B. Grievance Procedure: Except for employees in the Executive Service, and others excluded by law, the grievance procedure is available to all non-temporary Executive Branch employees in the State Personnel Management system. The following disputes are not grievable:

1. An oral reprimand or counseling;
2. A pay grade or range for a classification;
3. The amount or the effective date of a statewide pay increase;
4. The establishment of a classification;
5. The assignment of a classification to a Service category; and 6. The establishment of classification standards

C. Grievance Process: Prior to initiating the grievance, the employee must talk to the employee’s supervisor about the dispute. The employee has 20 days from the time he/she gains knowledge of the complaint to file an official grievance.

This is a three step process initiated by an aggrieved employee utilizing the "Universal Appeal and Grievance Form". The following steps are involved:

STEP 1 - Employee to Appointing Authority

STEP 2 - Employee to Secretary of Maryland Department of Health or designee

STEP 3 - Employee to the Department of Budget and Management; if not settled then the Department of Budget and Management forwards to the Office of Administrative Hearings.

D. Grievance Rights

1. Representative of Employee's choosing
2. Reasonable amount of release time with prior approval of supervisor
3. Right to appeal decision rendered to the next step.

PLEASE NOTE: The law provides separate appeal and rebuttal procedures for employee complaints concerning performance evaluations of “satisfactory” or better and employee counseling memoranda. Grievances involving employee performance evaluations of “satisfactory” or better may be appealed only to the appointing authority, and then, if necessary, to the head of the principal unit (the Secretary of MDH). The decision of the head of the principal unit is final. A counseling memorandum is not a disciplinary action. The employee is entitled to submit, within five (5) days of receipt of the memorandum, a written response which will be included with the counseling memorandum in the employee’s personnel file. {Ref: State Personnel and Pensions, Title 11 and Title 12}

E. Discipline:

1. Conduct-related discipline results from some form of employee misconduct, either an action or inaction of the employee that is a violation of a statute, regulation, policy, directive, or order.
2. Performance-related discipline results from the employee's pattern of poor work habits or poor performance of the assigned job duties.

NOTE: An employee who is subject to a disciplinary action may appeal that action to the Secretary of MDH or Designee within fifteen (15) calendar days after receiving notice from the Appointing Authority.

F. Employee Counseling: Either supervisor or subordinate in need of employer-employee relations/personnel counseling may contact the Office of Human Resources Employee/ Employer Relations Unit for assistance.
