Vol.), and Code Md. Regs. tit. 10, § 34.01.12, the State Board of Pharmacy (the "Board") hereby summarily suspends the license of JESSICA R. the Respondent admitted to fraudulently filling prescriptions for herself and her husband.

4. According to information received from CVS, on or about March 2, 2015, the Regional Loss Prevention Manager of CVS received an email from the Ethics Line of CVS Corporate regarding a possible prescription fraud observation made by a caller to the Ethics Line.

5. CVS conducted an investigation and determined via close caption television (CCTV) that the Respondent was fraudulently filling prescriptions for herself and for her husband. The CCTV revealed that the Respondent would fill out the telephone script pad without being on the telephone with a doctor. The Respondent would then fill the prescription and validate it before using the drive-thru register to ring herself up and complete the sale.

6. The Respondent admitted to fraudulently filling prescriptions for herself and her husband and confirmed the process by which she filled the prescriptions.

7. The Respondent filled prescriptions for a variety of medications, including two for controlled dangerous substances (tramadol² and diazepam³).

9. CVS filed criminal charges against the Respondent in the District Court of Maryland for Montgomery County (case number: 5D00332456). The Respondent was charged with 21 separate counts relating to prescription fraud. A nolle prosequi was entered on all charges.

² Tramadol is a narcotic-like pain reliever. It is a schedule IV controlled dangerous substance ("CDS").
