

COVID-19 TEMPORARY CHANGES UPDATE 04/03/2020

- Psychologists located outside of Maryland may apply for a Temporary Exception to Practice to treat current patients located in Maryland by completing the Temporary Exception to Practice Application on the Board's website. The following conditions must be met:
- The psychologist must be in good standing in their licensing state and must have been licensed under requirements substantially equivalent to (or higher than) Maryland requirements;
- The psychologist can only provide services to existing patients to ensure continuity of care during the crisis;
- The psychologist must pay a $100.00 fee;
- The temporary exception will be valued for up to 30 days (an extension may be granted beyond the thirty days upon request);
- The Temporary Exception to Practice is not available to psychology associates or interns;
- Services can be provided by telepsychology, but must be in accordance with Maryland state law, any relevant Executive Orders, the Board's regulations in COMAR 10.36.10 (to the extent they're not inconsistent with any emergency executive orders), and federal law."
- All applicable questions on the application must be answered. Incomplete applications will not be processed.
